Democratic Reform State Convention.

Republican professions of reform are but mere words. Until a Democratic House was elected, no honest efforts were made to uncover the dishonesty and corurption that has been discovered in government circles. But for that majority in the House, investigations would be stifled, and whitewash liberally applied as in 1872 and 1874. A change is need ed in the country, and to make it effective it must be radical. A fountain cannot rise above its source, and men chosen to office by the Republican party cannot be expected to be governed by higher motives than have gov erned that party since the inauguration of Grant as President. Hence the Democray of Vermont invite all opposition to Credit Mobellier, whiskey rings, buying and selling public offices, and all official frauds and dishonesty, and who are really and earnestly in favor of the continued prosecution and punishment of all official dishonesty, and of an economical administration of the government by honest, faithful, and capable officers," to ein with them in choosing delegater to meet u State Convention at Montpelier, on Thursday, June 1, 1876, at 10.30 a. m., for the purpose of of choosing ton delegates and ten al ternates to the Democratic National Convention to be held at St. Louis, Mo., the 27th day of June next; to nominate candidates for Governor, Lieutenaut Governor and Treasurer to be voted for in September next, Presidential electors to be voted for in November, and a State Committee for the ensuing two years, The State committee are, by vote of last ouvention, the Committee on Credeutials, Convention, the Committee on Credeutials, and delegates are requested to see that their eredentials, signed by Chairman and Secretary of caucus, are in the hands of that Committee at the earliest practicable moment, that there may be as little delay as possible in of the State should begin to organize before the holding of the State Convention. The probability is that our to do in the matter, we think the editor of our State organ, the Argus & Patriot, has a good claim. The late Hon. C. G. Eastman, formerly editor of the State paper at the Capitol, has filled this office, and Mr. Atkins we think, is entitled to it-if he will accept. He is now Chairman of the State Committee. The other Deleegate should be the Hon. B. B. Smalley of Burlington, our efficient gems from her pen in future issues of made to burn the edifice. The injury member of the National Committee. We make no doubt but what Mr. Smalley will be the man. The District Delegates of course will be chosen by the Democrats of each District in caucus organized for the purpose in Convention. For this District we would venture to suggest the name of Don. C. Pollard of Cavendish. willing to subject the intelligence, culture and all that is good in the South to the domination of carpet-bag thieves and ignorant negroes, have still among themselves a decent regard for public opinion, and are becoming generally ashamed of their party management. Hence, they have organized a Reform Club in Boston, and now New York follows suit. There has been a secession of rich respectability from the Union League Club, and an address to the public calling for the formation of a Republican Reform Club, signed by Judge Ernott, Hon. W. E. Dodge, John Jacob Astor, Isaac Sherman, A. A. Low, and a long list of other equally prominent names. Although these men think a legislature of negro field hands, a majority of whom cannot read, and never handled ten dollars at a time in their lives before their election, good enough for a Southern State, they want what they call gentlemen for home rule and personal association.
